HOBBIES

I love travelling because I get to see new cultures and different environments
I really like cooking because I can get creative.

OBJECTIVES

Thanks to my work experiences I have been exposed to how smaller retailers such as Sergent Major and global brands such as Primark run their businesses. I am fascinated with the strategy's companies use to market their brands, attract customers and the way they function. I would like to enhance my management skills by elevating to the luxury sector.
